RECORDS OF THE FIRST COIN AUCTION SALES HELD IN NEW ENGLAND

The following is an extract from my advertisement which appears in the February issue of the Numismatist.

"THE FIRST announcement of a PUBLIC COIN SALE in this country was made in the Salem Gazette of June 6, 1828, '350 Ancient Coins, Property of Benjamin H. Watkins,' sold by George Nichols, Auctioneer, of Salem, Mass. No other New England records are known until 1851, at which time Lewis Roper of Boston sold his collection; amount realized, $34.66. In 1852 Leonard & Pierce sold a collection of 123 silver and copper coins. In 1856 Leonard & Co., also of Boston, held sales in April, June and September. In 1860 we have a record of eight Boston sales; in 1861 five sales. The Robinson and Cook sales in 1862 netted $502.92 and $430.79 respectively. In 1863 and 1864 two sales were held each year in Boston. From 1864 down to the Hesslein time, many interesting Auction Sales have been held in Boston, but none of note since that time. What a background to continue to make Numismatic History! With that in mind I have decided to hold a Coin Auction Sale in Boston in the near future."

Interest in this sale will be augmented by holding it at the historic Parker House; a new and thoroughly up to date hotel. The original Parker House, built on the same site and erected in 1856, was the home of the golden Parker House Roll and from their presses scrip was issued to meet the money shortage during the Civil War.

NEW ENGLAND WAMPUM

In 1628, Roger Williams, in his description of the money or currency of New England Indians, gives the following account:—"It is of two kinds—White, which they make of the stem of the periwinkle, of this kind six of the small beads are current, with the English, for a penny. The other kind is black, three of these are equal to an English penny. One fathom of this stringed money was worth five shillings." The General Court of Massachusetts in 1640 ordered, "That, white waumpungeage should be current at four for a penny, the black two for a penny."

For several years I have been trying to obtain a string of white wampum taken from Burr's Hill, Warren R. I. at the time the Providence and Fall River R. R. was built. I have recently been able to purchase this string. A specimen of New England's earliest medium of exchange should be in every Numismatist's collection.

Only Ten Lots two pieces in cellophane envelopes offered. No bids under fifty cents a lot accepted.

My Second Auction Sale

AT

The Parker House, Boston

WILL BE HELD

Tuesday, April 12, 1938

SENSE makes CENTS and ALDEN BAILEY of MANCHESTER, CONN. used sense in making his collection of LARGE CENTS and general collection of UNC. and PROOF U. S. copper, nickel and silver coins.

The 1793 CHAIN AND WREATH, 1803 and 1809 CENTS are seldom offered in UNCIRCULATED CONDITION. In addition, I find many other later dates in UNCIRCULATED RED condition.

Another man with sense and large cents is CHARLES R. MATHEWSON, Pres. of the C. C. of R. I. Charles' collection is well known and he has only recently decided to part with some of his rarities. Come to the Auction and see them even if you do not buy.

There will also be many other rare items, including an 1856 FLYING EAGLE CENT, from other Collectors, in this sale.
